Faithfully Yours

A publication of Bethel Presbyterian Church – PC (USA)

April 2017

I have a friend with cancer, and he has prayed for God to heal him. He said, “So far he hasn’t healed me. My friend says I should pray with more faith. Is he right?” Let me share with you two false notions people have about heavenly healing.

First, death is always bad. We see a hearse, we think sorrow. We see a grave, we think despair. We hear of a death, we think of a loss. Not so in heaven. When heaven sees a breathless body, it sees the vacated cocoon, and the liberated butterfly. Ever since sin entered the world, the body has been doomed to die. Not only is death inevitable, death is necessary for us to inherit the new life we are to enjoy in Christ. “Flesh and blood cannot have part in the kingdom of God...This body that can be destroyed must clothe itself with something that can never be destroyed.” (1 Corinthians 15:50&53).

As long as we see death as all perceive God as being deaf to our prayers. Ask those in heaven if their prayers for healing were answered, and you might get a different perspective.

Second, prayer heals. God heals, not prayer. A matter of semantics? No. If you think the power is in the prayer and not the One who hears the fault the pray-er for unanswered prayer. How many people have had to deal with the false guilt of inadequate prayer? “If I had prayed more, if I had prayed better, if I had prayed differently, if I had prayed in the chapel or with a priest or with rosary beads or with different words.” To claim that prayer heals is to place prayer in the realm of magic chants and medicine man dances. Worse still, to place the power in the prayer relegates God to the personality of a computer. If I push the right buttons or type the correct code, he must respond. No, the power of prayer is in the One who hears it, not the one who makes it. Don’t assume that the faithful will never suffer. If the faithful never suffer, how do we explain the illness of Paul (Galatians 4:13), of the poor health of Paul’s friend Trophimus (2 Timothy 4:20), and the near death of his beloved Epaphroditus (Philippians 2:27).

Hebrews 11 decries the plight of God’s faithful: some defeated kingdoms, stopped fires, and were saved from being killed. Others were put in chains and thrown into prison. They were stoned to death, they were cut in half and they were killed with swords. Some wore the skin of sheep and goats. They were poor, abused and treated badly. All of these people are known for their faith. (Hebrews 11:33-39).

If the faithful never suffer, how do we explain the agony of Gethsemane and the death of Christ on the cross? Jesus himself prayed to be delivered from earthly pain (Matthew 26:39), and that request was denied. Was that due to a lack in faith? Absolutely not. God said no to the earthly prayer for a heavenly reason. The plan of salvation was worth the pain of the Savior. There are times when God chooses to say no to the earthly request so he can say yes to the heavenly one.

Doesn’t he still do that today? Doesn’t he use the challenge of the body to strengthen the soul? We need to remember that Peter was in a storm before he walked on water. Lazarus was in a grave before he came out of it, the demoniac was possessed before he was a preacher and the paralytic was on a stretcher before he was in your Bible. “We know that in everything God works for the good of those who love him. (Romans 8:28).

Please don’t interpret the presence of disease as the absence of God’s love. I pray he heals you. And he will ultimately.

Building & Grounds

The new Memorial Committee project has been completed in the fellowship hall, entry way and hall entry. Eighteen wrap around light fixtures were placed in the fellowship hall with ballast to cover the old fixtures. The hall and entry needed seven wrap around fixtures to replace the old lighting. These are LED energy saving bulbs which has twice the life of a florescent. Thank you to the Memorial Committee for all their hard work to bring this project to fruition.

Note from a member.... I am continually amazed by how much beautiful music comes out of so few choir members, aren't you? Do you know that Bethel is the only church in Hamilton that still has a choir? Do you realize we have ONE employee who directs the choir, plays the piano as well as the organ and sings? Do we support them and let them know how much we appreciated them? If their numbers decrease much more, will we have a choir? I would miss their music very much, wouldn't you? Do you know of anyone in our congregation or in the community who might be willing to sing in our choir? Please give this subject some thought and share your ideas.
